

Home

 NOTE: This section is the archived 2014 course wiki, if you are looking for current (2015) wiki please follow this link

This project based learning class will introduce you to fundamental concepts, tools and resources for effectively managing common tasks associated with analyzing large datasets.

Provide familiarity with cyberinfrastructure (CI) resources available at the University of Arizona campus, iPlant Collaborative, NSF XSEDE centers, Future Grid

Learning to apply relevant CI skills (for final project) and developing wiki based documentation of these best practices.

Learning how to effectively collaborate in interdisciplinary team settings.